We are committed to keeping up to date with safety certification and supply chain schemes to ensure compliance.

We are extremely pleased that this month we were awarded the Gold Standard in our Safe Contractor Accreditation and are Safe PQQ verified!

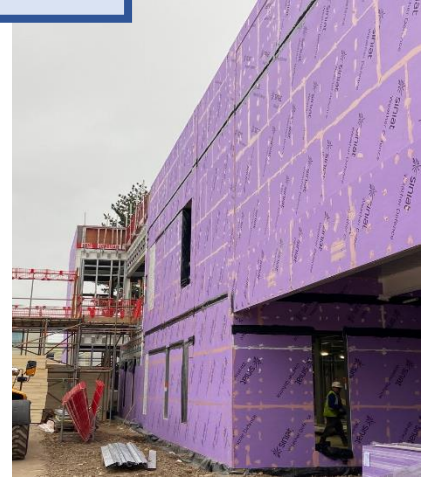

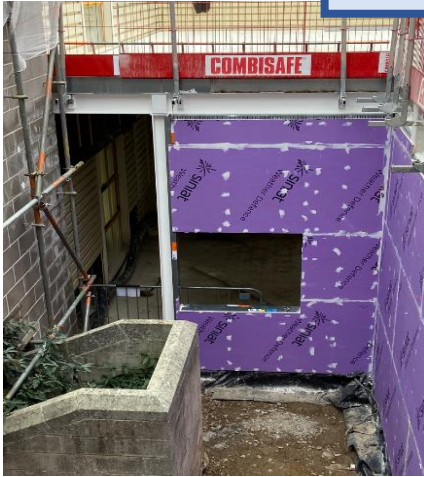

This was achieved following an assessment of our documentation and evidence covering PAS91 topics, in construction related procurement and compared against the British Standards Institute (BSI) and the department for Business innovation and skills.

Manstal has also this month successfully achieved the Achilles Silver Accreditation, one of the most widely recognised and endorsed certification schemes across the UK and internationally.

The quality of its risk assessments puts it ahead of similar services and it provides transparency that is necessary to help businesses trust the companies, like ourselves, that they are working with.
